UMC receives funding for Citizen-Scholar Fellowship Program

By Elizabeth Tollefson on Tuesday, April 5, 2005

The Office of Service Learning at the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) recently received funding from the Midwest Campus Compact Citizen-Scholar Fellowship Program (M3C Fellows Program) to fund a new program, the UMC T.E.A.M. This AmeriCorps Education Award program is designed around three positive correlates with persistence to graduation: financial aid, participation in community service, and participation in a cohort group. The UM T.E.A.M. is composed of 10 students who will work in small and large groups on community service projects at UMC and in Crookston. Individuals and small groups of students will be available to assist local host agencies approximately 5 hours per week on an ongoing basis. Larger groups will be able to assist with special events.
